WILL YOU BE MAKING A MEANINGFUL IMPACT THIS CHRISTMAS?

Helping people discover their potential, so they can help themselves grow in life and help those around them can be the way for you to promote SUCCESS all around you.

Enabling them to become a more effective, efficient, and authentic person, a person who can grow and change from within to achieve a better future.

It could be for you a good gesture to provide them with a tool to address:

THE NEEDS OF LIFE – MOTIVATION - UNDERSTANDING TEMPERAMENTS - KNOWING YOURSELF - ATTITUDE - SELF-CONFIDENCE - CRITICAL THINKING - COMMITMENT TO WORK - STRATEGIC SUCCESS - CULTIVATE A CREATIVE LIFE – COMMUNICATION - THE COGNITIVE BIAS - PROBLEMS SOLVING - THE NEGOTIATION - PSYCHIC VAMPIRISM – HUMOR - THE VISION AND THE MISSION - LEARN BASIC COMMON SENSE - GOOD JUDGMENT - BE RESPECTFUL - RELIGION AND SPIRITUALITY.

Of course, we all want to be successful in life. We all want to be able to live our dream life away from all the struggles and constant worrying about our day-to-day problems.

We all have different definitions of success, but for most people, success can mean that you want to live a happy, wealthy, contented and overall better life than the one you are currently living in, especially if it is far from the life you expected.

Now is the time to embrace success and contribute to influence others, so that the people that are surrounding can succeed, so to impact even more, your own success and, most of all, positively inspire all around you.

If you are not there yet, or you would like to be there and you feel within yourself that you will succeed by putting in the necessary effort to achieve your goals, now is the time to inform yourself, so success can happen in your life.

Whatever good you attract or offer in your life, if you focus and work hard at it, just know that it has a good chance of coming true.

Now however you define success, be it financial, spiritual, physical, mental, emotional, philanthropic, community or family, the most important thing you need to know about success to be successful is that success matters, and you are solely responsible for it.

Most will agree regardless of culture, race, religion, economic or social background that success is important and vital to the well-being of the individual, family unit, workplace, and social environment. And, certainly, for the survival of these elements in the future.

Understand that those who downplay the importance of success are usually confused or have given up on their own chances for success.

Success brings confidence, security, a sense of well-being, the ability to contribute hope, and leadership at a higher level.

Without success, you, your environment, your goals, your dreams, and even entire civilizations may be in jeopardy.

Just think that without continued success, entire races ceased to exist, as was the case with the Vikings, Romans, Greeks, Native Americans and then an endless list of businesses and products.

Success is important in the sense that it is necessary to continue to subsist and thus ensure its survival!

If you are unable to take care of your children, they will be looked after by the state. For an individual or a group to continue, they must actively achieve their goals and targets, otherwise they will cease to exist.

For a company or an industry to continue, it must be successful in creating new products, bringing them to market, satisfying customers, employees, and investors, and repeating this cycle over and over.

Regardless of the goals you are trying to achieve, success is important. Stop succeeding and you will stop winning. Stop winning long enough and you will give up!

Success is not only important, it is vital. It should never be reduced to anything less than necessary for life.

I wrote « My Success Is Your Success » because I have great excitement seeing people from all walks of life experience success.

I wanted to help people like you discover their potential, so they can help themselves grow in life and help those around them.

« My Success is Your Success » lets you take the ideas from the book and apply them to your personal development.

This will enable you to become a more effective, efficient, and authentic person, a person who can grow and change from within to achieve a better future.

Becoming a genuine person requires hard work!

To become great at any endeavor, whether in your career, family, or community, you must use the unique strengths you were born with and develop them to the fullest, while recognizing and learning from your shortcomings.

Above all, remember that in most cases, individuals must work hard to shape their future.

They endure disappointing defeats and rejections and search for many years to find the right place to thrive.

Each of them is required to take the journey to their own soul, discover who they are, where their true passions lie, and how they can become more effective in shaping their future.

Personally, I didn't have a distinct reference text like this book to help me when I was young, so I built my evolution plan as I went along, with the help of my father, employers, close friends, my wife, my son, and mentors throughout my journey.

After many years of looking for role models, I learned that I could never truly become myself by trying to emulate someone else or minimize my flaws.

If you aim to look like someone else, you'll just be an impersonator, because ultimately, you'll think that's what the people around you want you to do.

You will never be a real person with that kind of thinking. However, you could be a real person, following your passions.

Many self-help books offer a quick fix or provide the reader with, say, seven or easy steps to follow and you're done.

Unfortunately, the development and evolution of a person does not usually happen this way, and one rarely becomes a fulfilled person simply by reading a book. Much more is needed!

To realize your potential in life, you need a detailed development plan that will allow you to shape your future.

This is the goal of « My Success Is Your Success » which will help you to develop a clear and detailed plan for your personal growth, your success, and your happiness in life.

I encourage you to have as many experiences early in life as possible.

Do not sit around waiting for these experiences to come to you. Look for them!

Then, after each experience, you should compare it to your evolutionary plan to see what changes you need to make or determine what future experiences you should explore. Remember the fundamentals in this book because they will help you change your future.

You will have to discover your authentic self as soon as possible.

You will have to remember that you don't have to be born with certain characteristics to be able to shape your future.

You won't have to wait for someone to tap you on the shoulder to get started.

You won't have to wait until you're at the top of an organization to get started, and most importantly, you'll have to remember that you're never too young or too old to grow to change your future.

I encourage you to be completely open and transparent with yourself as you answer the difficult and challenging questions you will ask yourself about where you think you should be in the future.

You must explore your life story in depth to understand who you are as a human being, where you fit into this world, how you can positively impact the world, and how you can leave a lasting legacy.

I hope you and many others can transform businesses, institutions, governments, society and revalue education and religion, bringing authenticity and encouraging others to do the same.

At this point, it is important to keep in mind that changing your life for a better destiny is solely up to you!

SO, OFFER THE GIFT THAT KEEPS ON GIVING!

Make a meaningful impact on an employee, a co-worker, and a family member during the Christmas season by offering them a gift that multiplies in value.

Help people discover their potential, so they can help themselves grow in life and help those around them.

Let the reader take the ideas from « My Success is Your Success » and apply them to their personal development.

This will enable them to become a more effective, efficient, and authentic person, a person who can grow and change from within to achieve a better future.
